VICTORIA'S LAST WILL.

Distribution of the Large Estate of England's Late Queen.

SHE AMASSED AN IMMENSE FORTUNE.

King Edward and the Heir Apparent May Not Be Beneficiaries as the Kingdom Will Provide For Them. Arrangements For the Funeral.

Cowes, Jan. 25.—Queen Victoria's will was opened and examined by the duly constituted authorities. Nothing will be made public as to the provisions of the instrument or the amount of her private fortune. It is generally supposed that this preliminary inspection was made in order to follow exactly her majesty's directions in regard to her funeral. It is known that the queen made a will early in her reign, which was repeatedly altered and added to as the children and grandchildren were born, and as her estates advanced in value. This proceeded until 1896, when her majesty decided to have an entirely new document drawn, and with great personal care this was accomplished.

Those in a position to make any sort of a guess as to the provisions of the queen's will declare that the Princess Beatrice, widow of Prince Henry of Battenberg, will be the principal beneficiary. She is the governor of the Isle of Wight, and will probably inherit Osborne House and the whole estate surrounding it. Then the Duke of Connaught and his sons, who have been great favorites with Victoria, will receive a large portion of the fortune. The duke will probably become the owner of Balmoral and the Scottish property. The grandchildren who are expected to receive the largest bequests are the two children of Victoria's youngest son, the former Duke of Albany. The queen's second daughter, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, is not rich, and it is expected she and her four children will be liberally remembered. Edward VII, who will be amply provided for by the country, and the Duke of York, who comes into the Duchy of Cornwall and will be the Prince of Wales, probably will not be sharers in the late queen's private fortune.

Queen's Private Fortune.

Estimates made by the best informed persons fix the value of Queen Victoria's private estate at something between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000. Parliament upon her accession granted her $1,925,000 a year. That sum, it was estimated, would maintain the royal establishment and the sovereign $300,000 for pocket money, or personal expenses. Since the death of Albert, the prince consort, it is asserted her majesty has saved $250,000 a year of that sum. This money, together with its increment, has been invested under the best advice that London could supply. Added to it and accumulating each year is the sum of $2,300,000, the private fortune of the prince consort, which was bequeathed to the queen. She was also the legatee of many admiring subjects, one of them deeding $2,500,000 to her.

The body of Queen Victoria was removed to the Chapelle Ardente, in the dining room, by a party of blue jackets from the royal yacht. The only persons admitted to view the remains Friday were those whose names appear on the queen's visiting list, officers of the army and navy and a few prominent residents of the island. The Marquis of Lansdowne, secretary of state for foreign affairs; Field Marshal Earl Roberts, commander-in-chief of the forces, and William St. John Brodrick, secretary of state for war, were among those who viewed the royal corpse. It has been definitely decided that there will be no public lying in state. Arrangements for the funeral are gradually evolving. The remains of the queen will be taken to Portsmouth on board the royal yacht Alberta and will remain on the boat Friday night Feb. 1.

A private service over the remains of Queen Victoria was held Friday. The coffin was placed on a crimson dais in the center of the dining room and rested on a silk union jack. A white satin pall was over the coffin, with the royal crown and insignia of the Order of the Garter embroidered on it. Sentinels with arms reversed stood at the corners.

Foraker's Daughters Allied.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Florence Foraker, eldest daughter of Senator Foraker, to Randolph Matthews of Cincinnati, son of the late Chief Justice Stanley Matthews; also of the engagement of Miss Julia, the youngest daughter of Senator Foraker, to Francis King Wainwright of Philadelphia.

FAVOR SPOONER BILL.

Philippine Federalists Think Time Is Ripe For Civil Government.

Manilla, Jan. 25.—The executive committee of the Federal party has filed a petition requesting the Philippine commission to urge upon President McKinley that the passage of the Spooner bill by congress is an urgent necessity, as the progress of the archipelago demands an authority which can legislate and control the incorporation of concerns, regulate mining claims, dispose of public lands and perform other functions not vested in either the military or legislative authorities. The petitioners state that the time is ripe for a general civil government and the establishment of which will win over those favoring the insurrection, while, at the same time, it will encourage the natives to subscribe in favor of a settled government in the Philippines under American sovereignty. Therefore they urge that the Spooner bill, which empowers President McKinley in his discretion to declare the insurrection ended, and to establish a civil government, be passed by the present congress. Members of the commission, while desirous that a full quota of troops shall continue here, will recommend the passage of the Spooner bill. Officials of the Manila Chamber of Commerce and other persons express their intention of calling President McKinley to the same effect. Secretary Root has advised the commission to inform inquirers that the ports in the southern islands will not be closed.

Sending Home the Sick.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—A cablegram received at army headquarters here announces the departure from Manila, Jan. 25, of the transport Indiana with 457 sick and seven insane soldiers. Within the next three weeks vessels carrying 1,200 convalescent soldiers will arrive at this port. The Sheridan, due to arrive here Feb. 6, has on board, in addition to 267 soldiers, 654 men and officers of the Thirty-seventh.

American Editor Exiled.

Manilla, Jan. 25.—George T. Rice, editor of The Daily Bulletin, a marine journal here, has been ordered by General MacArthur to be exiled for publishing a charge of dishonesty against the captain of the port. Rice refused to retract and insisted that his allegations were true after the port captain had been exonerated by a military inquest.

CARLISLE SUED.

Cabman Demands Damages For Alleged False Imprisonment.

New York, Jan. 25.—John G. Carlisle, who was secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland, has been sued by an indignant cab driver for $2,000 damages. The cab driver alleges that Mr. Carlisle falsely caused his arrest and compelled him to remain in the Tombs prison three weeks. The papers in the case were prepared some weeks ago, but owing to the difficulty of getting at Mr. Carlisle he was not served until this week, and then the service was made by one of plaintiff's attorneys, instead of by a regular process server. Richard F. Leake is the cabman suing for damages. According to his complaint, the night of Dec. 22, 1898, Mrs. Carlisle returned to New York city from Washington and engaged a cabman at the Twenty-third street ferry to take her to her home. After she entered the house, she discovered that a sealskin cape, valued at $300, was missing. Leake was arrested, but declares he was not the cabman.

Ching's Chin-Chin.

Peking, Jan. 25.—Foreign ministers have sent a note to the Chinese plenipotentiaries on the lines previously stated. Prince Ching assured a committee of missionaries that there was no intention or desire on the part of the Chinese government to place restrictions upon the missions and that the government itself never had in the past any objections to the missionaries or to their methods. The missionaries are greatly pleased with Prince Ching's frank assurance.

Saved the Crew.

Point Arena, Cal., Jan. 25.—The gasoline steamer Barbara Hermsen, Captain Hilsenquamm, which sailed for San Francisco with a cargo of wood, was blown on the rocks near here and may be a total loss. Frank Christensen, a sailor, was drowned while attempting to take a line ashore, the boat in which he made the effort being capsized. A volunteer lifesaving crew finally passed a line to the wrecked vessel and the crew of eight was rescued.

Montreal, Jan. 25.—The stores of D. A. MacPherson, W. A. Johnson and Nicholas Pitt, in William street, were destroyed by fire, together with their contents. MacPherson is said to have controlled the bulk of the cheese trade in Canada. Loss estimated at $250,000.

HOPE FAILED AT HOPE.

Mrs. Carrie Nation Afraid to Tackle Saloons There Alone.

SAYS SHE IS DOING GOD'S WORK

Doesn't Want to Die Just Yet as There Is Too Much Work to Be Done — Thankful the Eggs at Enterprise Were Not Rotten.

Hope, Kan., Jan. 25.—Mrs. Carrie Nation arrived here from Enterprise, determined to attack the two saloons in Hope, as she had those at Wichita and Enterprise. But no committee of temperance workers met her at the depot and when she arose in the morning she said she had made up her mind not to damage the saloons here, because she was alone. She refused to eat her breakfast, because she feared she would be poisoned, and instead talked temperance to a crowd that had gathered in front of the hotel. At 10 o'clock she took a train for Ottawa, saying she would visit friends there and rest a few days. When she started for the depot the proprietors of the two saloons here escorted her to the train, one on each arm, a crowd following and cheering.

When Mrs. Nation left Enterprise a big crowd followed her to the depot hooting and throwing eggs. On the train en route from Enterprise to Hope Mrs. Nation talked enthusiastically. To a crowd of Woman's Christian Temperance Union women who accompanied her to the station as the train pulled out Mrs. Nation cried: "Goodby; keep up the good work; don't let them open the rum holes again." She sat down alone in the coach and began examining her dress, smeared with eggs. "I always thank God for the favors he does," she said, and when asked what feature of the demonstration she was thankful for, responded promptly: "That the eggs were not rotten."

Mrs. Nation began to talk and laugh as gaily as if nothing had happened. She had been cool and collected during all of her exciting experiences both at Wichita and Enterprise, always meeting the sallies of the crowd that hooted her or pelted her with stones with a prayer or an exhortation on temperance.

"Aren't you afraid?" she was asked. "Sir, not a bit," she answered defiantly. "I'm doing God's work." Her coolness seemed more remarkable because of the fact that she had been given warning that a mob awaited her arrival at Hope.

"You'll surely meet with serious mishap, perhaps be killed, if you keep this up," she was admonished.

"I know it; I know how it will end. But when God is ready for me to die, I am ready to go. I don't want to die yet; there is too much good work for me to do. We've been watching our sons go to ruin and death through whisky for years," she continued. "We've been praying and waiting for laws to be enforced and the traffic stopped. We've decided to wait no longer for men to act. If the Woman's Christian Temperance Union had started out 25 years ago with prayers and songs and hatchets, there would not be a saloon in the country today. A saloonkeeper, to me, is the same as the man who cuts another's throat or his money."

"My object in smashing saloons," continued Mrs. Nation, "is to stiffen the backbone of the women against the rum traffic and set them an example of the only way the traffic can be stopped. I will organize them into a society of saloon wreckers. If a saloon opens in a town, the women there, if they have not backbone enough themselves to wreck it, will send for me. I will send for my aides in different towns. They will be women of undoubted bravery, and we will go there and break up the saloon and keep it broken up. After we have stamped it out in Kansas we will go to Missouri and keep on going. I have letters from all parts of the country asking me to come. I hold that under the constitution of the United States the saloon can not legally exist any place in this country."

When the train reached Hope a crowd of men and boys jostled each other to get a glimpse of the saloon wrecker. No women were there to meet her and she pushed her way through the crowd to an omnibus and was driven to a hotel. The crowd ran after the vehicle and thronged the hotel office to see her, but made no attempt at assault.

Lumber Mill Licked Up.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 25.—Wagon & Sons lumber mills, near Guyandotte, burned, together with all the lumber in the yards. The loss will reach $65,000; no insurance.

INDIANS IN COUNCIL.

Son of Chief Snake Captured and Held as a Hostage.

Muskogee, I. T., Jan. 25.—The Creek uprising continues dangerous. United States Marshal Bennett captured the 17-year-old son of Chief Snake, and has notified the latter that the boy would be held as a hostage until the Indians surrendered. The Indians have so far refused to surrender and are holding two council, one near Bristow and one at Roshili, I. T. A dispatch from Bristow states that citizens there were continuing to arm themselves and prepare for an emergency. Marshal Bennett returned from Eufaula after a visit with five deputies to the home of Chief Snake. When he first entered Snake's house but three people were there. In less than 20 minutes' time 50 light horsemen, Indians of Snake's band, gathered. They were all heavily armed, but offered no harm to the officers. The Indians had been picketed about evidently to protect their chief, or to give warning of an attack. Snake was not to be found and Bennett left word for him to come to Muskogee or Eufaula for a conference.

Only One Troop Ordered Out.

Omaha, Jan. 25.—General Fitzhugh Lee stated at noon that no orders had been issued for the movement of any troops other than the troop of cavalry sent out from Fort Reno, and that none would be unless it should develop that one troop was unable to suppress the outbreak of the Indians.

Indians Assembling.

Eufaula, I. T., Jan. 25.—Disaffected Creeks are assembling in large numbers seven miles west of here. The insurrectionary chief and Crazy Snake are there. Emissaries of the Choctaw insurrectionists are also present.

Bell Will Become Chief.

South Macalester, I. T., Jan. 25.—The Choctaw situation remains unchanged. Daniel Bell, elected chief of the Choctaw Snake Indians, who deposed Governor Duke, will be sworn in Monday.

Sheriff Wants Soldiers.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 25.—Sheriff Tighman of Lincoln county has made a demand requesting Governor Barnes of Oklahoma to send him a company of militia.

Will Try to Get Back.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 25.—J. S. Sweeney, Professor John Burke and Walter R. Day, who were ousted from the offices of state auditor, superintendent of schools and commissioner of agriculture, respectively, by Goebel Democrats in the famous contest for state offices last April, held a conference here, and will meet again next week in Louisville, when they expect to take steps to reopen in the court of appeals, an application to restore them to the offices to which they claim the people elected them.

Lost Miner Found.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 25.—John Zeylankus, a young coal miner, who disappeared last Saturday after working a week in the Green Ridge slope, was found crouched among a lot of "gob" piled in one of the headings, chattering and acting like a madman. He was very much exhausted from his terrible experience and could give no intelligent account of how he became lost.

Royal Nuptials Proclaimed.

The Hague, Jan. 25.—An official of the ministry of justice delivered at the town hall a formal deed, signed by Queen Wilhelmina and Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, declaring their desire to be united in matrimony. Flags were immediately hoisted on the town hall, churches and other buildings. The royal bans will be read for the first time Sunday, Jan. 27.

Shotwells Indicted.

Williamsburg, Ky., Jan. 25.—The grand jury returned 11 indictments against the Shotwells and their associates, charging them with conspiring to murder Rolla White at Corbin, when the grocery store of White's brother was blown up; and also with the murder of Susan Cox and Sutton Paris. All but one are in jail. The trials will begin next week.

May Have Been Murdered.

Zanesville, Jan. 26.—There are grave suspicions that Mrs. John Deninger, who was found dead Wednesday at her home near Eagleport, was murdered. She was a daughter of Alonzo Brown and a member of a prominent family.

Sir Edwin's Son.

London, Jan. 25.—At the Old Bailey Julian T. B. Arnold, son of Sir Edwin Arnold, who was ordered extradited from San Francisco in October, charged with misappropriating trust funds, was sentenced to 10 years' servitude.

New Incorporations.

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—Montezuma Tribe No. 1, Ancient Order of Aztecs, Portsmouth; Marietta Stone company, Marietta, $10,000; Cleveland and Southern Railway company, Cleveland, $10,000; American Glee club, Cincinnati.

STOP PHILIPPINE WAR.

That Is What Senator Towne Wants Uncle Sam to Do.

RESOLUTION OFFERED IN THE SENATE

Says Justice, Public Welfare and National Honor Demand Peace and Recognition of Filipino Independence—House Proceedings.

Washington, Jan. 25.—In the senate Mr. Towne (Minn.) offered the following resolution: "That justice, the public welfare and the national honor demand the immediate cessation of hostilities in the Philippine islands upon terms recognizing the independence of the Philippine people, and conserving and guaranteeing the interests of the United States." Mr. Towne asked that the resolution lie on the table and gave notice that he would address the senate upon it Monday.

When 2 o'clock arrived unfinished business, the ship subsidy bill, was taken up and Mr. Dewey addressed the senate.

In the House.

When the house met Mr. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, submitted the conference report upon the army reorganization bill. Mr. Richardson (Tenn.), the minority leader, requested that the report be allowed to lie over until Saturday. The report had not been printed, he said, and members should have an opportunity to examine it. Mr. Hull would not agree to this. He said the conference had been full and fair in the presence of minority members, and while they did not agree to the result, "the army bill," he said, "should have been a law three weeks ago, as 35,000 soldiers are ready to be shipped home and must be replaced before July 1 by soldiers of the regular army, unless we are willing to do a great injustice to them by holding them there." Proceeding, Mr. Hull explained in detail the concessions of the two houses on the various items. In the course of his statement he had a sharp exchange with Richardson. Mr. Hull made a strong appeal to both sides of the house in favor of the provisions designed to retire General Shafter as a major general, and Generals Lee and Wilson as brigadier generals, provisions which the house had stricken out. He paid a high tribute to Generals Lee and Wilson and a glowing eulogy to General Shafter, whose Santiago campaign, he declared, would pass into history as one of the greatest planned and fought in any age. Mr. Hull was closely questioned about various features of the conference report. In reply to Mr. Adams (Tenn.), he said the house conferees had made very little effort to retain the house provision for a veterinary corps. Mr. Adams insisted that the house conferees should have stood by the house provision. Mr. Hull declined to yield the floor to Mr. Adams, but yielded six minutes to Mr. Richardson (Tenn.), who desired to obtain the floor in his own right. Mr. Richardson said that several questions upon which the house had solemnly declared itself had been yielded by the house conferees. To vote for the report would now mean to increase the list of officers upon the retired list, to which he was unalterably opposed. The conference report on the army reorganization bill was agreed to, the vote on the adoption of the report being 123 to 100. The house passed the naval appropriation bill.

The committee on invalid pensions reported favorably the Myers bill for the creation of a court of appeals in the final adjudication of pension cases. The measure is strongly urged by the Grand Army.

The resolution of Mr. Sherman (N. Y.), providing for a congressional investigation of alleged flogging practices at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, has caused quite a stir in congressional circles interested in the naval academy. Mr. Sherman says he proposes to follow up the matter.

Not Included.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The report that the senate committee in the amendments it suggested to the war revenue reduction bill removed the tax from cosmetics, perfumeries, chewing gum and sparkling wines is erroneous. The committee reduced the tax on some medicinal preparations and removed it from others, but left it on the articles mentioned as in the old law.

Glasgow, Jan. 25.—Severe snowstorms prevail over the west coast of Scotland and vessels are experiencing heavy weather. The Allan steamer Hibernian from Boston Jan. 11, for Glasgow, grounded in the Clyde. It is not reported that she was damaged.

A NURSERY OF HEROES.

During the recent official investigation of "hazing" at West Point, a member of the Congressional committee sharply called down a young military buck who had made a proud confession of participation in the silly and brutal pastime of disciplining green cadets. The Congressman's pointed rebuke (which will have the approval of every sensible and humane citizen in the country) elicits the following extraordinary comment from the Cincinnati Times-Star, which is generally a very sensible and conservative sheet:—

It is safe to say that if the boy and the Congressman had been alone in a sequestered spot, after the interview, to complain of the cowardice engendered by life at Uncle Sam's military school.

That is to say, this military sprout would have molested a middle-aged Congressman as readily as he would have smashed an undersized cadet. The only apparent remedy for this new phase of militarism is to place upon our committees of investigation such gentlemen as James Jeffries, Thomas Sharkey and Kid McCoy. The prize ring can give pointers even to West Point.

HIGH COMPLIMENT TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

The article below will be read with feelings of pride by every true American. It is indeed a splendid tribute to our military force in China. The following article appeared in the "Journal des Debats," published in Paris, France, in the issue of December 26th, 1900:

"The Times of London has received from its correspondent in Tokio a resume of the impression produced by the soldiers of the different allied nations upon the Japanese journalists, and this communication is not lacking in interest. In the opinion of the Japanese, of all the soldiers of the expeditionary corps—their own compatriots excepted—the Americans were the most distinguished for their good conduct. It is not here a question of their bravery, but of their behavior off the field of battle, and that behavior was above all praise. The Americans neither stole nor pillaged nor murdered, and they conducted themselves throughout like perfect gentlemen. As regards the English the correspondent is rather reserved: the officers appeared admirable and above all, they were very serious. For the English soldiers he has nothing to say.

The Germans did not cause a serious amount of complaint, but this was due, not to the superior quality of the men, but because the officers maintained a severe discipline and the troops could not give themselves over to their evil instincts. He has little good to say for the French or the Russians. The French were generally friendly toward the people, but there were no worse thieves than they; and this the correspondent attributes to the conditions in which those troops had been placed who came from the Tonkin. The Russians were plunderers par excellence, but more than this, they did not hesitate to murder those whom they had pillaged; and the officers did nothing to restrain the savage, brute instincts of their men. The Japanese correspondents admit that there was a great amount of pillage committed by their own fellow-citizens, but this was not a pillage by individuals but was regularly organized by the officers; and this, in their eyes, a circumstance that exonerates them completely and conforms to the laws of war."

GOEBEL MONUMENT FUND.

Women of the State Contribute $5,116.33.

FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 24.—Mrs. William Cronwell, Secretary of the Goebel monument fund being raised by the women of the State, has made a report showing that there has been collected by them $5,116.33, and that after the payment of all expense accounts there remains in the fund $4,839.44.

This money is on deposit in the State National Bank here to the credit of Mrs. C. C. McChord, Chairman of the Women's Committee.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure headache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phoebe Cherley, of Peterson, Ia., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters cured me, and, although seventy-three years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes constipation, improves appetite and gives perfect health. Only 50c, at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store.

JOHN MARSHALL DAY.

Arrangements Being Made in Many Sections for Celebrations in Honor of the Noted Jurist.

John Marshall Day, February 4, will be widely celebrated throughout the country, especially by the legal profession. As yet no arrangements have been made at this point to observe the day, but at Lexington, Louisville and other points the program has already been arranged, or it is in preparation. At Lexington, Mr. Charles Kerr, a former citizen of Maysville, will be one of the speakers. The principal address of the day will be by Judge Beauchamp. The following brief sketch of the noted jurist is taken from the Encyclopedia Britannica:

John Marshall, Chief Justice of the United States, was born in Vaquiter County, Virginia, September 21, 1755. As Lieutenant and Captain he served in the Revolutionary war from 1775 to 1780. In 1781 he began the practice of law, and two years later removed to Richmond. From various times from 1782 to 1788 he was elected a member of the Virginia Legislature. In 1788 a member of the Virginia convention for the ratification of the Constitution; in 1797 he was Envoy-extraordinary to France and in 1799 a member of Congress; in 1800 he became Secretary of State and on January 31, 1801, he was appointed to the Chief Justiceship, which he held till his death on the 6th day of July, 1835. Marshall as a lawyer soon rose to the first rank at the Virginia bar, and acquired also a national reputation. In the Virginia convention of 1788 his influence was second only to that of Madison in securing the adoption of the Constitution. But, unlike Madison, he continued, under the Constitution, to support the administration of Washington and Federalist measures in general. It was as Chief Justice of the United States, however, that Marshall won lasting fame. His reports, filling about thirty volumes, form a work which time will render only more valued. In the expounding of public law, whether international or State law, his talents found their freest scope. In these departments of jurisprudence, general principles rather than authority, must be sought by the Judge, and in their application Marshall has had no equal upon the American bench. It is the peculiar function of the Supreme Court of the United States to interpret the Constitution and to guard it from the encroachments of both National and State legislation. To this duty Marshall brought his great and just powers of reasoning, as well as those broad views of government, which, during the thirty-four years of his judicial career, gave to the Constitution the liberal powers which were necessary to its durability. "The Constitution," says Judge Story, "since its adoption, owes more to him than to any other single mind for its true interpretation and vindication."

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Mysterious Disappearance of a Young Negro Girl From Her Home Near Logan's Gap.

GEORGETOWN, OHIO, January 24.—At Logan's Gap, living along a lonely ravine, is an aged colored woman, who has had until a short time ago as her only companion a young negro girl. A few weeks ago there appeared in the community a strange colored man, and shortly after his arrival the girl was missing.

A search was instituted, and a mile or so from the house pieces of the girl's clothing were found covered with blood. These were positively identified by several of the searching party. The strange man had fled. In a deep ravine he had been seen carrying wood to put on a fire which was noticed to be kept burning for several days.

It is the belief of those acquainted with the affair that the young girl was enticed into the woods, murdered and her body burned. No trace of her can be found except the clothing covered with blood, which belonged to the missing girl beyond doubt.

Rev. H. E. Gabby will preach at the Aberdeen Baptist Church Sunday at 3 p. m. Sunday school at 2 p. m.

Brought Good Fortune.

A small item in his own paper lately brought amazing good fortune to Editor Chris. Reister, of the Saginaw (Mich.) Post and Zeitung. He and his family had the grip in its worst form. Their doctor did them no good. Then he read that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds was a guaranteed cure for la grippe and all throat and lung troubles; tried it and says: "Three bottles cured the whole family. No medicine on earth equals it." Only 50c. and $1 at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store. Trial bottles free.

WOMEN'S Skirts!

Concerning odd lots at reduced prices. We did a great Underskirt business this season and it's not over yet because we expect a heavy response to this announcement of price cutting. You appreciate real economy, don't you? Then share in this. Six weeks ago these Skirts would have been just double the price. Not a penny too much for them either. You don't have to be told that grass is green, that sunlight is bright, that ice is cold, and when you see them you won't have to be told that these skirts at the price are bargains, large and infrequent. Colored petticoats. Just as near as cleverly-treated cotton can approach the appearance of silk is the fabric of which they are made. The colors exactly echo the silks and there's a sheen in the finish that makes the resemblance very striking. $4.50 to $2.75 was the price. Now any skirt in the assortment for $1.75. Green, red, blue, several helios, cerise, one black with luminous silver stripes. Pleatings, cordings, ruffings, all the pretty trimmings of up-to-date Underskirts.

Handsome mercerized black Petticoats of the kind and style you know all about but at an unfamiliar price, for never have we had such quality, even in our very best efforts, to offer for $1.19. You'll have to almost double our price to reach our quality anywhere else.

MR. HOPKINS' LECTURES.

A Large Audience Edified by His Talk on the Bible and His Fine Stereopticon Views Last Night.

The attendance at the Christian Church last evening was much larger than on the evening before, and it is hardly necessary to add that every one present came away delighted with the evening's program. Mr. Hopkins' addresses, impressed by outline on the blackboard and with splendid stereopticon views, are highly instructive and entertaining. "Those views were the grandest I ever witnessed," remarked a gentleman who was present last evening.

Mr. Hopkins talked on the Bible last evening. To get a clear understanding of it, he treats it under five divisions—the Old Testament, the Gospels, Acts, the Epistles and Revelations. The central thought of the first division is preparing for Christ; of the second, believing in Christ; of the third, coming to Christ; of the fourth, living in Christ, and of the fifth, conquering through Christ; the great central figure of the whole—Christ.

Mr. Hopkins will speak this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, to-night at 7 and again on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Sunday night at 7 o'clock he will preach on "The Man of Galilee." This will be the first illustrated sermon ever delivered in Maysville. All are invited to hear these talks and the sermon. Special invitation to Sunday school pupils and workers.

"THE ROYAL BOX."

Robson, the Brilliant Young Actor, to Be Seen Here February 6th in Above Named Play.

The engagement of "The Royal Box" for Feb. 6th promises to be one of much interest inasmuch as it will give Maysville theatre-goers an opportunity not only to see a play which has already met with approbation, but its leading character will be played by Andrew Robson, who is fast making his way to recognition as one of the best actors in America. He is to be seen in the part of Clarence, the actor, in "The Royal Box," a play adapted and re-written by the late lamented Charles Coghlan.

In New York it had a remarkable run at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, packing that celebrated place of amusement to suffocation for four months and then going back again for another run the following January. When Mr. Coghlan fell ill last season Mr. Robson played his part, and when the end came and the famous English actor had passed away the role naturally fell upon Mr. Robson's shoulders, and he has continued to act it with great credit to himself and the play ever since.

Nothing is spared to give the production in all the detail which characterized its presentation in New York. Magnificent scenery has been painted for it, and the costumes, furniture, properties, hangings, etc., are all new for the present tour.

AFTER THIS

What More Can Maysville People Demand?

When old-time residents and highly respected people of Maysville make statements like the following, they must carry conviction to every reader.

Mr. J. L. McIlvain, of 116 West Third street, says: "When a man is relieved of annoyance and suffering for years, when he has exhausted all his knowledge of household remedies and used medicines suggested by his friends and neighbors, when he has come to the conclusion that there is no cure, he naturally enthusiastically endorses the means he employs to obtain relief. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug-store for kidney and bladder complaint. I had no expectation of even checking my trouble let alone curing it. Much to my surprise and more to my gratification, the results obtained stamps the remedy as being more than up to the representations made for it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

SMALL SUM YET NEEDED
To Complete the Amount Needed by the Y. M. C. A.—Men's Rally Sunday Afternoon.

A small amount is yet needed to complete the required subscription to sustain the Y. M. C. A. About $60 is still needed. It is earnestly hoped that this amount can be raised within the next few days. A number of people who were confidently expected to contribute something have not yet been seen, but the directors mean to give all a chance. Those who have subscribed can greatly assist in the matter if they will hand amount of their subscription to some member of the Board, or send it to General Secretary W. G. T. Baker, at their earliest convenience.

Men's rally Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock will be especially interesting to the young men. It will be conducted by young men. Subject: "Do You Love Life? Then Do Not Waste Time, for That is the Stuff of Which Life is Made." Come. All are welcome.

Curtain For Leavitt.
New York, Jan. 25.—Ben Leavitt, well known throughout the country as a theatrical manager, died at his home in Paterson, N. J., aged 45.

A pure skin is one of nature's noblest creations.
Reasons for using KOLA FACE CREAM!
(ABSORBENT.)
Because—
It is a delicate, pleasant and fragrant skin food.
It is chemically pure and does not change.
No toilet is complete without it.
It does away with dangerous cosmetics. It makes a red nose or face its natural color.
It changes white lips to red ones.
It gives health to an oily skin.
It removes sunburn, tan, freckles and wrinkles.
It beautifies the skin.
It has no equal for the complexion. It can not harm the most delicate skin. It draws fire from a burn.
It cures cracked lips, cold sores and chapped hands.
It softens the hands and face.
It gives your skin a soft, healthy appearance.
It is good for the old as well as for the young.
Those who have used it, now buy it for their friends.
It cures all baby humors.

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS....
Hundreds testify to the wonderful efficacy of.....

BOND'S
ASTHMA, HAY FEVER and RHEUMATISM
CURE**
And all kindred complaints, due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It accomplishes its wonderful results first, by purifying the blood and counteracting the existing poisons; second, by toning up the kidneys, liver and stomach, and thus enabling them to dispel all foreign and unnatural secretions. Don't delay. At this time of the year everything is conducive to these distressing and treacherous diseases. At the first symptom take this famous medicine. You will find it almost miraculous in its action and positive in its good results.

IF YOU WANT TO HELP BUILD UP THE TOWN

Induce your friends to patronize the manufacturing concerns already established here. If there is one institution more than any other that the citizens of this section should encourage with their patronage, it is the JAMES H. HALL PLOW COMPANY, whose fame extends even to South America and Mexico. This firm's long and honorable career should win for them a large local trade. There is no need to buy Plows of a foreign make when implements of such worth are turned out here at home. Nothing but the best material is used in any of their products, and the models are of the latest and most improved styles. No Plow is allowed to leave their works which is not only perfect in make, but superior in workmanship and material, and prices are as low as the same quality can be furnished by any other Plow factory in the United States. Another advantage that should not be overlooked is the fact that repairs can be quickly supplied, obviating the necessity of long waits, so often the case when using plows of foreign manufacture.
